

MANAGEMENT OF REMOTE TEAMS

Do you manage or work in an international team located in several countries or time zones? Our Management of Remote Teams programme is the ideal solution to quickly and efficiently meet your remote work challenges with an international team.

This hands-on, operational programme aims to develop communication and telework skills, taking into account the various managerial, organisational, cultural and technological aspects of the challenges faced by geographically dispersed international teams.

Your training programme: a practical approach to develop your skills

Working with a geographically dispersed team means having to carry out all usual functions with the additional challenges of geographical and temporal distances (rhythm shift, relational distance), linguistic and cultural distances (diversity of communication modes and management styles), organisational and technological distances (complex hierarchical structures and connections, necessary but insufficient collaborative tools). This programme addresses these different issues and helps you develop your professional skills in order to be effective with a geographically dispersed multicultural team:

- ✳ Identifying the unique features of working and managing remotely
- ✳ Adopting good practices with the use of communication tools
- ✳ Identifying the self-management profile and adjusting to the cultural diversity of your remote colleagues
- ✳ Establish coordination and cooperation within your team
- ✳ Role plays, case studies and critical incidents
- ✳ Analysis of your situation and problems, personalised action plan
